All Water Users Must Pay Regulation Rates

At the regular meeting of the town council tonight, Mayor Ewan and Councillors Morency, Montalbeti and McDonald were present.

The minutes of previous meeting were on motion approved as read, and accounts from J. E. Gillis and the West Canadian Collieries, Ltd., were given consideration. The former account was in connection with action taken to collect hospital fees from certain 'flu' patients, and other legal fees, amounting to in all about $120.00. The latter account was for electric current supplied the town during the months of January, February and March of this year, running in the neighborhood of $1800.00. Both accounts will be reported on by committees at the next meeting of the council.

Several matters were introduced for consideration, one being complaint from citizens of the Palatier addition re diversion of water from Brewery Creek, which water has been diverted so as to form a dam just west of the brewery. This matter will be looked into by the proper committee and recommendations as to the best course for this creek, which has been causing no small amount of annoyance to people of the east end of the town, will be introduced at the next meeting of the council. Another question was that of the trouble caused the properties of Louis Boldovino and others in the east end by the diversion of the course of the Old Man river at that point. The course of the river at that point has been changing every spring, and as a result has made considerable inroads into the properties of settlers in that locality. The present course of the river current is not only endangering the properties of citizens, but the C. P. R. as well, and the sooner steps are taken to change the waters to their original course the better for all.

Councillor Morency wanted to know why Plumber Jackson should be allowed to run at large without a license tag attached.

Councillor Morency, on behalf of the Blaimore Athletic Club, asked financial assistance from the Council. He felt that the Council were looking too earnestly at the serious side of life and forgetting real pleasures. Sorry to say, the town could not see its way to come through with financial, but would promise its moral support.

A resolution was passed, granting the Blaimore Hardware Co. permission to install a gasoline tank in front of the Penchen block, provided same be installed in accordance with the requirements of the Works and Property Committee.

The following important resolutions were also passed:

McDonald-Montalbeti—That as a number of consumers have claimed exemption from payment of their water rates on the ground that their service pipes are not connected with the town main, the town service, be it resolved that every person who has a water connection with the town main be charged the legitimate fees each month in accordance with the schedule, whether their own private pipe line be frozen or not, providing there is no freeze-up in the town main supplying such pipes. The waterworks being heavily in debt, unless all consumers pay their dues regularly and in full, according to the printed regulations as accepted by them, the water to be forthwith shut off from such consumer's premises, and instructions are hereby given to the waterworks superintendent to promptly execute same without exception and report progress to the next meeting with list of alterations and adjustments made in the rating.

Montalbeti-McDonald—That every person not having a pipe connection with the town main or any stand pipe be charged a fee of $1.25 per month for such water, and failing payment of same, proceedings against them be taken. Any consumer supplying water to such persons, unless such fee has been paid to the town, to have their connection shut off. Also, any consumer supplying water to any person whose supply has been cut off from the town to have their connection shut off. Drastic measures must be taken at once to stop this pilfering which inflicts a hardship and injustice on those abiding by the town regulations and thereby discharging their obligations as citizens. An adjustment to be made at once by the waterworks superintendent of all cases which at present are undercharged or wrongly rated.

Considerable discussion followed the introduction of the question of a city park by Councillor McDonald, but no definite action was taken.

The public meeting held in the repatriation, was the chief opera house on Sunday afternoon speaker of the evening. He was under the auspices of the Great favorable to the scheme to provide War-Veterans' Association was a cash payment of one to two largely attended. The chair was occupied by J. M. Carter, of the local Vets, who in well chosen remarks introduced the speakers. The first speaker was Com. Thomas Longworth of Lethbridge, who is president of the Lethbridge local. Mr. Longworth briefly outlined the position of the veterans' organization with the labor organizations, and stated that as about ninety-five per cent. of the veterans were connected with labor organizations they could not but be sympathetic with labor movements. The veteran, he stated, were in sympathy with the unions, but had no use for Bolshevism or the O. B. U., which he considered was the child of the wavers of the red flag and the I. W. W.

Major Molins, of Calgary, was the second speaker. He outlined very briefly, but well, the aims and objects of the Great War Veterans' Association.

G. W. Wainfall, of Calgary, whose chief work is in connection with securing soldiers' pensions

Britain Would Secure A Permanent Peace

London. — A full dress debate on the question of the proceedings of the peace conference, in regard to the payment of indemnities, took place recently. A number of members expressed apprehension that Germany might succeed in her efforts to avoid payment in full.

It was pointed out that Germany might be bankrupt now, but that the development of her resources would enable her to pay. Furthermore, it was not the business of the delegates at Paris to say what Germany could pay. Their affair was to present the bill; it was Germany's business to find ways and means of meeting her obligations.

Andrew Bonar Law, replying, did not think that there was any foundation for the statement that Lennin's government had offered certain terms of peace. Neither he nor the prime minister knew anything about it. In regard to indemnities, Mr. Bonar Law stated that the government still intended to get from Germany whatever amount could be got from her. In this connection, they had not been influenced by President Wilson. Looking at the whole problem of the war, Britain's aim was to secure peace now and hereafter.

Unless, as a result of the war, the closest possible understanding, even, was not only with France, with whom we had been all the time on good terms, but also with the United States, with whom there had been a lot of misunderstanding, a great deal would have been lost. The government recognized the greater sufferings of some of our allies and desired to be fair to them, but in connection with reparation the government must be just to the empire as a whole. It was not the business of the government to decide on the disposal of money. Up to recently the reparation commission had taken no decision as regards the amount of the claim. It was only fair to assume that our representatives in Paris were as honest as the house to get the largest possible amount and that on the question of examination from that standpoint, this argument was equally applicable to the allies.

He hoped that whatever was done would be done by all the great powers, but Franco-British interests were more direct than United States.

HAD WEAK and FAINTING SPELLS

Those feelings of faintness, those weak, "all gone" sensations, which come over some people from time to time, are warnings that must not go unheeded.

They mean an extremely weakened condition of the heart and a disordered nervous system.

When the system is in this condition there is no time for delay. One fainting spell may be recovered from—will the next? One dizzy spell may pass off, but the next may be more serious.

Those who are wise will start taking Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, before their condition becomes deep rooted and perhaps hopeless.

They will act directly on the disordered heart and weakened nervous system and restore them to full strength and vigor.

Miss Mary Cor, Algonia Mills, Ont., writes: "I was awfully troubled with fainting and weak spells, and I could never get any of the remedies to help me. One day a friend of mine was at the house when I took one of those spells, and she gave me a box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. That was six years ago, and from that day to this I have never had any of those spells. I would not be without your pills for any money, and can highly recommend them to any one."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are sold in a box at all druggists, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Britain Will Exact Utmost Farthing

London. — In the house of commons, the government was subject to a great deal of criticism concerning the amount of indemnity which Germany is to be asked to pay.

Col. Lowther, Unionist, declared that the delegates to the peace conference in Paris needed to be reminded that the majority of the members of the house of commons solemnly had pledged themselves to exact the utmost farthing from the Germans. He said he hoped Great Britain was not trusting to the United States, and bowing before President Wilson, who could philosophically bear every country's financial

Stated as Probable Outcome of the Present Situation

Ottawa. — That acquisition by the government of the Grand Trunk railway will probably be the outcome of the present railway situation, was a statement made by Sir Thomas White when the bill confirming the appointment of a receiver for the Grand Trunk Pacific was being considered in committee.

Sir Thomas said he could not make this statement definitely, and suggested as possible alternatives that the government might resort to suit or foreclosure.

There was some criticism of the action of the government by Major Thos. A. Vies, Lethbridge, who regretted that an order in council appointing a receiver had been passed before the government had declared its railway policy.

R. L. Richardson, Springfield, declared that there appeared to be a conspiracy on the part of certain newspapers to help the Grand Trunk and resented the suggestion that the Grand Trunk company should be treated with generosity. There was nothing left but public ownership, he said.

Sir Thomas White, in the course of further remarks, explained that, under the receivership, the government will not pay interest guaranteed by any of the provinces. The government would only pay enough to operate the system. Sir Thomas denied that the action of the government in regard to the Grand Trunk would hurt the credit of Canada in London.

Speaking at a late hour, Hon. Arthur Meighen stated that no order had been taken by the government which constituted unfair treatment. There had been, he said, a fair offer of arbitration, with no final limit fixed as was done in the case of the Canadian Northern.

One hundred and forty prominent political figures have been arrested, including Joseph Szteppenyi, former minister of commerce, and Count George Karolyi, both of whom are in danger of being sentenced to death.

Baron Hatwag, a millionaire owner of a newspaper, is now a clerk in a private business, and other members of the nobility whose property has been confiscated, are searching for work.

May Have Summer Fair

MOOSE JAW. — If the citizens and business men of the city are interested enough to get behind the project, it is probable that a summer fair will be held this year, the probable dates being August 5 to 8. Strong committees have been appointed by the Moose Jaw agricultural society to make a canvass of the city and district to ascertain the prospects.

Golf Links on Vimy Ridge

Windsor, Man. — The Canadians have laid out a nine-hole golf course on Vimy Ridge, the capture of which by the soldiers of the Dominion was one of the achievements of the war. The news comes in a letter from an officer in France. It is stated President Wilson will be invited to play on the historic links.

The Case of Captain Fryatt

German Investigation of Execution of British Sea Captain Leads to Usual Verdict

Berlin. — At a continuation of the investigation into the execution of the British mercantile marine captain, Charles Fryatt, by the Germans in 1916, Prof. Shuecking, a member of the investigating commission, explaining the grounds on which the verdict of death was based, declared there was no obligation under international law to grant the request of the American embassy to appoint a defender for Captain Fryatt. The foreign office, Prof. Shuecking said, made endeavors in this direction, but various circumstances rendered such action impossible.

He argued that there was in existence a principle of war usage, making a private person assuming a part of a belligerent force liable to the death penalty for war treason.

The commission investigating the execution of Captain Charles Fryatt by the Germans in 1916, has decided that the shooting of the captain did not violate international law. The committee, however, expressed regret at the rapidity with which the sentence was carried out, according to advices received here from Berlin, where the investigation was held.

Invalids From Siberia

Vancouver. — The C.P.R. steamship Empress of Japan is expected to arrive April 9th from the Orient, carrying a number of invalid soldiers and officers from Siberia. According to information received here the Japan has 700 men and six officers on board.

The Yellow Peril

Captain Martin Smith Says Japanese Will Not Tolerate Disgrace

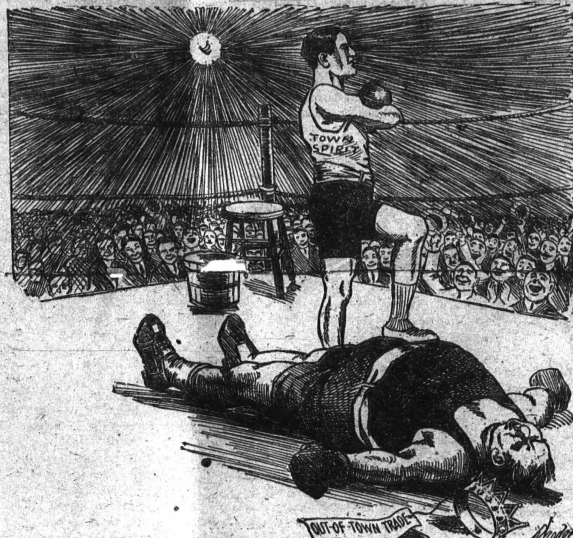

Ottawa. — "We have finished the fight over yonder, but this has not by any means settled the world problem," asserted Captain Martin Smith of Vancouver, who is stopping in Ottawa for a few days on his way home. "Canada has to face, as never, has before, the yellow peril," he continued. "The Japanese is a high spirited man and if discriminated against, he feels slighted."

Captain Smith held out fears that the world may yet be in the throes of a death struggle when the white and yellow races, comprising the Japanese, Chinese and possibly other oriental nations, clash for world supremacy.

Stuttgart in State of Siege

Street Traffic Forbidden After Nine O'clock at Night

Stuttgart, Germany. — The government has proclaimed a state of siege in the city of Stuttgart, and its environs. All shops, theatres and public places must close from eight in the evening until 9 o'clock in the morning and all street traffic is forbidden after 9 o'clock at night. The counter strike which was called as a protest against the general walk out of workmen has been joined by tradesmen, merchants, manufacturers, state and municipal officials, doctors, and chemists. No local papers are issued and postal and tram car services have been suspended.

THE KNOCK-OUT

How many rounds before the knock out? That knock out blow, when "Mr. Out-of-Town Trade" gets his final "knock-out" from home interests. Are we in training for it? Here is a fight in which the interests of the entire country are at stake. It is all of us—you and me and our children and our neighbors, our town and our neighboring towns—against this one evil. Our champion is ourselves—all of us, welded together into one co-operative whole. Will our man win. And when? It all depends on us. If we think as one man, act as one man, trade at home as one man, then we are in good training for that final knock out. In reality we are not at the ring side. We are in the fight. In this picture we see ourselves, arrayed as Home interests, triumphant.

Huns Pay Gold for Food

Paris. — The French foreign office was advised that $55,000,000 in gold was deposited by the Germans in the Belgian National bank at Brussels. The gold is collateral for the payment of foodstuffs which the allies are permitting to enter Germany.

Did Not See Kaiser

Report of Interview by Begbie Has Been Denied

London. — The articles in the London Chronicle by Harold Begbie, describing his visit to Amersfoort, quoting the former German kaiser's alleged state of mind, charging Russia with responsibility for the war and asserting his innocence of any guilt, have attracted wide attention. The London bureau of the Associated Press received the following telegram: "Amersfoort. "Harold Begbie has not had an interview with the former emperor. His written questions remain unanswered. He did not receive any authorization to publish the emperor's views, and no statement was given to him. He never saw the emperor; neither did he enter the castle gates."

End Your Catarrh To-Day

Catarrh sufferers, meaning those with colds, sore throat, bronchitis, etc., can all be cured right at home by inhaling—Catarrh-ozone. In using Catarrh-ozone you don't take medicine into the stomach—you just breathe a healing piney vapor direct to the lungs and air passages. The purest balsams and the greatest antiseptics are thus sent to every spot where catarrhal trouble exists—germs are killed, mucus secretions are destroyed, nature is given a chance and cure comes quickly.

Colds and throat troubles can't last if the pure healing vapor of Catarrh-ozone is breathed—stinging and coughing cease at once, because irritation is removed.

Use Catarrh-ozone to prevent—use it to cure your winter ills—it's pleasant, safe and guaranteed in every case.

London. — The serious situation in the Murmansk region, and the attempt by the Bolsheviks to drive the allied forces on the Archangel front into the sea are the cause of much anxiety here.

Sir Ernest Shackleton, the explorer, who has just returned from Russia, where he superintended the winter outfitting and feeding of the expedition, confirmed the danger to the allied position and armies. He is credited with stirring British opinion into a keener realization of the seriousness of the position in Russia.

Sir Ernest Shackleton is director of equipment and transport of the northern Russian expeditionary forces and has visited points from Murmansk and Archangel. He declared in an interview that both fronts are in danger, and that the Bolshevik peril is a very real one, because the entire forces are outnumbered by disciplined and well armed, and equipped troops in close touch with the allied extended but by no means strong front.

The northern Caucasus from the Black sea to the Caspian sea, has been entirely cleared of the Bolsheviks as the result of the successful campaign of the army of Gen. Denikin in that region in January and February, according to an official report issued here.

The anti-Bolshevik leaders, fighting having ceased, are forming new forces of Cossacks and other natives. The report says that the capture of Vladikavkaz on January 28, by troops under Gen. Skuro, completed the campaign against the Bolsheviks, in which 50,000 prisoners, more than 2,000 guns, 350 machine guns, 100 locomotives and thousands of railway cars were taken.

A report from Odessa on February 13, said that the army of Gen. Denikin had scattered a Bolshevik army of 100,000 men, of whom more than 31,000 were made prisoners.

Failure of the offensive in the direction of Tukum, in Courland, west of Riga, is admitted by the Russian Soviet government, in a wireless message received here.

The message adds that fighting is in progress in the direction of Mitau, southwest of Riga, and in the region of Pskov, northeast of Riga.

A CHILD HATES OIL, CALOMEL, PILLS FOR LIVER AND BOWELS

Give "California Syrup of Figs" if cross, sick, peevish, constipated

Look back at your childhood days. Remember the "doses" mother insisted on—castor oil, calomel, cathartics. How you hated them, how you fought against taking them.

With our children it's different. Mothers who cling to the old form of physic simply don't realize what they do. "The child" is revolted. It is well founded. Their tender little "insides" are injured by them.

If your child's stomach, liver and bowels need cleansing, give only delicious "California Syrup of Figs." Its action is positive, but gentle. Millions of mothers keep this harmless "fruit laxative" handy; they know children love to take it, that it never fails to clean the liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach, and that a teaspoonful given today saves a sick child tomorrow.

Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grownups plainly on each bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. See that it is made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.

Gen. Byng Not Leaving Army

London. — Although Gen. Byng has declined the Salisbury command, it is understood he is not quitting the army entirely, as has been stated.

Bolshevik Propaganda Spreads in Germany

London. — Describing the outlook in Germany, the Berlin correspondent of the Mail says the crisis which is rapidly approaching seems certain to be graver than either the January or March outbreaks.

"One of the storm centres is Bavaria, especially Munich," he writes. "The situation in southern Germany has completely changed during the last three weeks. Thousands of people, including many women, attend meetings at which unadulterated Bolshevism is advocated and demands are made for the abolition of parliament. A political movement is arien that is even stronger than the Spartacists. The members of this party call themselves syndicalists and are, apparently, led or inspired by terrorists who escaped from Dusseldorf with the government troops. Occupied that city after the last uprising."

"Bolshevism is working in Germany by propaganda as it did in Hungary and is wrecking and removing opportunities for work."

Scotching Bolshevism

When those labor men at Calgary recently endorsed Bolshevism in Russia and "participation in Germany, and then started out to preach that heresy in British Columbia or elsewhere, they must surely warrant something that they will be unable to finish. With that delectable pair of cutthroat ideas they couple the one union plan, to appeal to labor, thinking thus to hoodwink the average worker.

Let the man who toils with his hands, as well as he who works with his head, while realizing that things are not what they should be while the world is more or less out of joint, has no idea, when he steps to think, of acquiring everything overboard for conditions as they prevail in Russia or Germany today. Consequently the real worker turns a distasteful look at such specious stuff.

In addition, there is a large and growing element that will not stand for it, and that is the returned soldier. He did not go through the hell on earth over there, fighting Bolshevism and Spartanism in France and Flanders, to have it crammed down his throat in Canada, to say nothing of those who are sleeping their last sleep in a foreign land, who passed on while battling for principle.

Enemies of the new doctrine are travelling up and down the land, and it is satisfactory to note that they are receiving scant consideration, not only from returned soldiers but from the public at large. Constituted authority, we must have, and we must secure reform at the ballot box—not by force. The man who advocates the anarchistic method in action over there should be put where he will do the least harm and we must see that there is no room for him in Canada. Scotching Bolshevism may prove to be a painful pursuit in Canada.—Trail, B. C. News.

The Noble Weaker Sex

The weaker sex
Is that portion
Of the human race
That goes down town
In zero weather
And wears a hat
To buy a muffler
And woolen socks
For her husband
So he can go to work.

A returned soldier enroute to his home fell sick with smallpox, a North Sydney. He was in a quarantined room in the barracks in that town for twenty-four days. The town club got a surprise when the following bill was presented: Nurse in attendance $145, groceries $300, messenger $46, to which was to be added the doctor's fees and his drugs. The North Sydney Club state they will not clamor to entertain any further delegation of returning smallpox stricken her.

Who Am I?

Last Leap Year I did not wish to embarrass my best girl by letting her propose to me so I asked her to be my wife but she said she would rather be excused so I foolishly excused her, but I got with her because I married the girl's mother, and then the girl became my daughter, and when my father married my daughter he became my son. When my father married her she became my mother. If my father is my son and my daughter is my mother, then who am I? My mother's mother, which is my wife must be my grandmother. I being my grandmother's husband, I must be my own grandfather.

Montaville Flowers

The re-election, in September, 1917, of Montaville Flowers as president of the International Lyceum Association, indicates the standing of this distinguished lecturer with his co-workers in the Lyceum, and evidences their appreciation of his peculiar fitness for the position in a time of unusual activity. Mr. Flowers had previously served the organization as president for two terms, his administration being characterized by marked advances in everything which tended to give the association national prestige. It was recognized at the recent convention that an era of unusual possibilities was before the association, the national government having accorded special recognition to the convention by sending as speakers George Creel, chairman of the Bureau of Public Information, and Henry P. Davidson, head of the Red Cross activities, and that a president of commanding ability was required. That the choice fell to Mr. Flowers, in spite of the fact that custom had limited the time of holding office to two terms, is indeed complimentary to the distinguished lecturer who is to appear here on the Lyceum course on the night of Thursday, May 1st.

The subject of Mr. Flowers' new address is "The Triumph of Democracy." This is the latest and treats upon the question now before the world.

Over fifteen thousand Canadian soldiers are in hospitals overseas. All Y.M.C.A.'s in Canada give returned soldiers six months' membership free, and thousands of veterans are availing themselves of the privilege.

The question of a town park is becoming a live one with the town council. Let's get after it in dead earnest. The C.P.R. has over and over promised to supply seeds and bulbs if the town would undertake the laying out and caring for a garden and have offered the use of the vacant lands along the railway right-of-way through the town for that purpose. The railway people would consider a beautiful flower garden a valuable asset to themselves and there is no questioning but that it would be an asset to the town of Blairmore. Too little interest is manifested in gardening and it is time our people were awake to their opportunities.

The marriage of Thomas Ormiston Turner, of Pincher Creek, to Miss Edith Fry took place at Killarney, Manitoba, on March 29th.

J. A. McAllister, D. W. Parrish, J. Durbysheir, A. Pequin and W. J. Hoche arrived at Coleman from overcross on Saturday morning last, all looking well.

Professor Thompson, of the University of Saskatchewan, has been granted a commission by the Alberta government to search for rust resisting wheat.

Rev. Wm. Boulton, Methodist minister at Vancouver, is going to England to engage in Y.M.C.A. work for the British Association, under an arrangement by which the Canadian branch donates a certain number of secretaries to the British Association for a year.

What is needed in Blaimore now is a commission agent who will make a specialty of buying and selling stockpiles. They are about the cheapest thing in creation when it comes to buying, but for sale they're not worth a hoarse in hades.

For trapping without a license in B. G. Ralph Vroom, of Beaver Mines, was sentenced by a Bernier judge to a fine of $800 or twelve months imprisonment. On the same charge Arthur Elliott and John Truitt received a sentence of $800 or twelve months imprisonment.

The British Columbia provincial government intends to increase the tax on coal. The tax is now ten cents per ton and will probably be raised to fifteen cents. The coal companies will be allowed to retain the privilege of paying either the income tax or the tonnage tax, whichever is the greater.

A Western preacher, bitterly denounces women who spend so much money only to put it on their backs. "Gracious! How unsophisticated they must be when everybody knows that at the opera and theatre and dinner and other functions many of the women have comparatively nothing on their backs!"

B. W. Latimer, who has occupied the position of coal agent for the C.N.R. here for the past several months, has been called to Calgary and left for that point last night. Mr. Latimer will likely be stationed in his old post on the line between Winnipeg and Port Arthur.

A new bill providing for the establishment of a universal ball holiday on Saturday throughout the province was introduced in the legislature Tuesday afternoon by W. M. Davidson (gov.) North Calgary. The object of the measure is to do away with the confusion of the varying ball holidays in different cities and collisions with the Factory Act.

Three men, employees of the Canadian Western Natural Gas Company, of Bow Island, were drowned in the Old Man river near that town on Friday afternoon last, when the cable carrying a boat on which they were crossing the stream broke plunging the three men into the swift running water. The bodies have not yet been recovered.

The public are warned to take up to the requirements of the Public Health Act, particularly in the matter of cleaning up their premises as soon as spring weather will permit. The local board, together with the medical health officer, will make a tour of inspection of the town in the course of a few days, and any party not complying with the health act regulations will be subject to prosecution.

Blaimore and Crows' Nest Pass

(By T. Ede, Blaimore)

Blaimore is situated on the Old Man River and the Crows' Nest Pass Railway, in the southern corner of southern Alberta, 160 miles southwest of Calgary and 14 miles from the British Columbia boundary line on the west.

The Crows' Nest Pass railway is the most southerly through line east and west on the Canadian Pacific system, and is the shortest and the lowest grade to the Pacific coast with a very light winter snowfall.

The town of Blaimore is beautifully situated on the Old Man River and lies in a valley surrounded by the Rocky Mountains on the west and the Livingstone Range on the east and very much resembles Banff national park on the south side 100 miles north. It is quite a favorite resort for many living on the prairie of southern Alberta, as well as sportsmen in the fall, for the fine trout fishing and hunting.

This district is almost the last part of North America that is yet well-stocked with deer, elk, black and brown bear, mountain sheep and goats. Here is where the warm chinook winds are first seen and felt on their route to the prairie from the Pacific coast, which greatly moderates the winter climate, giving the mildest climate of any part of Alberta and more frequent rains in summer and in the summer range for thousands of cattle and sheep from the prairies.

Wild fruits and flowers are found all through the Pass, and beautiful flower gardens are to be seen in passing through the towns and villages. Small cultivated fruits are easily grown with success. There are thousands of acres of coal all through the Pass and coal mines are opened and in operation every two or three miles. The output consists of the very finest house, steam and cooking coal, together with quantities of timber well covered with spruce, fir, poplar and other trees.

Blaimore is fortunate in having sulphur springs right at its own door and one mile from the railway station, which supplies the soldiers' sanatorium with sulphur water for bathing and drinking water for those suffering from rheumatism.

The town owns its own waterworks and electric light system, and is supplied with electric current from the power house of the West Canadian Collieries, erected right in the heart of the town.

The West Canadian Collieries have their head offices here and the principal coal mine out of several at other points.

Sale of Work and House Plants

By The Ladies of the Sewing Circle of Central Union Church, Blaimore

Wednesday, April 16th.

Watch for Announcement of Time and Place

The Blaimore mine alone has an average output of 1500 tons daily of the finest house and steam coal, which is largely shipped to Spokane. There are nine seams of coal in this mine, having about 58 feet of clear coal, and is sufficiently developed to put out 5000 tons daily.

There are also a large cement plant, brewery, lime kiln, brick yard, saw and planing mills, part of which have been closed down owing to the late war and want of labor. The population is about 2500 and is steadily growing.

Owing to its fine position for shipping to all parts of the world, its cheap fuel, lumber, lime, cement, brick and general necessities at its own door, there are good openings for all kinds of industries, and good, bright, sunny homes for all the work people. There is no better place for people seeking a healthful and pleasant home to retire in in their waning days. For ten months in the year one wakes up in the morning refreshed and cheerful with the sun laughing in his face.

Blaimore is two days' journey by rail from Vancouver and three days' from California.

On reticling, with the hair out straight, then make a parting, gently rubbing Cuticura Ointment with the end of the finger. Anoint additional partings until the whole scalp has been treated. Rinse in tepid water. Repeat in two weeks if needed. Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Talcum Powder, each plus Canadian duties.

Some Army Superstitions

Trading Identification Tags Caused Much Confusion

Guy C. Hickie writes from Paris: Despite the fact that the war is over, done with, and all but dead and buried; despite the fact that the obsequies are actually being performed by a swarm of gray-haired, worried-looking peace commissioners, who look as if history had outgrown them—there are still soldiers who do not take a third light from a match.

The curious superstition that the youngest of three men who light their cigarettes from the same match will be the next to die persisted.

A Croix de Guerre makes no difference. A man may have been brave enough to face any number of Boche, he may wear a whole row of medals for acts that demanded utter gallantry, and he may be the next to die.

A curious fact in connection with the superstition that the third light is fatal, has leaked out recently. The war is over and the armies are being demobilized. So far as can be learned the weird theory originated with a big match firm that had a contract for furnishing matches to the British army. At any rate it was fostered by that firm. It certainly did stimulate the use of matches by a goodly percentage. For in the line matches are rare, and for every lucifer present there were always at least three, probably more, eager fags waiting for a light. That the match manufacturers' competitors reaped an equal benefit was immaterial. "Sell and let sell" seemed to be their motto.

Another war story which army superstition is dying out, however, that is the belief that it is fatal to exchange leaves. Anybody knows better than that nowadays; but while gas and steel were still percolating through the atmosphere of the trench, it held so firmly in the hands of the British general staff finally issued an order forbidding an exchange of leaves.

It was the practice to allow a certain proportion of men to be absent from a company at a time. The leaves were given in rotation, regardless of whether or not the recipients of the precious "Blighty" privilege would be better served at another time. The natural result was that a brisk business of trading leaves developed.

Soon, however, the story began to float about that the man who went home on another man's leave ticket was "kumped off" soon after his return. The men started to see if the story was true. And from what they saw they soon became sure that it was. Leave trading languished.

Still another army legend, an American one this time, has come to an end altogether with the cessation of firing. It is a superstition that though considered harmless by the boys themselves, caused much needless grief at home, and brought down Niagara of undeserved condemnation upon the war department.

A "Jerry shell has my name and address. Trade identification tags and the shell won't be able to find me." That was the theory.

Wholesale exchanges resulted. The lads hoped that if they could shed the government label the blind mass of steel hurtling through the air would lose its way.

John Jones was sure that if he went over the top with a tin tag hanging around his neck with "John Jones" on it he was almost an accomplice in the act of aiding a Boche shell to locate him. But if he could trade tags with Bill Smith he would not be subjecting Bill Smith to any further risk, and he might fuddle the fate that floated in search of him.

What was the result? Either he or Bill Smith was killed, perhaps. The bawling party following on the heels of battle picked up the body, kept the tag (with the other's name on it) and buried the body, recording the death and burial according to the name on the tag.

A few weeks later the wrong family was notified that it had lost a son. And the right family was not notified at all.

Following exonerations upon every one connected with the army, that is, upon everybody but the two lads who were responsible.

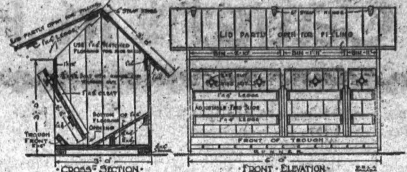

Curious though the existing superstitions are, still more strange is the fact that another did not spring up.

I have never found a soldier who was afraid to wear a dead man's shoes. Apparently the stern pressure of necessity, when supply trains were far behind, stalled in slippery and shelled roads, had something to do with it. It is not a stick to an ideal when sticking means that you hustle over French flint in your bare feet. It is so much better common sense to get your feet covered, no matter how.

I have even found men who were positively willing to go through a gas attack protected by a German gas mask.

Don't waste feed, but give them all they want by building a feeder like this. One side of the roof is hinged so that it can be opened for filling, and note adjustable feed slide which can be adjusted for either coarse or fine feed. These are now being used extensively in hog-raising communities, and have proved themselves highly satisfactory.

Fargo Promises

Building Activity

Nothing But General Strike Can Prevent.

Only one thing can prevent a great building boom throughout the United States this year, comments the Fargo Courier, and that is such fatuous handling of the labor problem as shall bring general strikes. Fortunately, in some of the basic industries, capital seems willing to agree that wages shall not be reduced, and if this sentiment becomes general there should be no really serious labor difficulties this year.

The fact that steel prices have been fixed, by agreement between the federal authorities and the manufacturers, and on the basis of present prices, will go far toward stimulating building.

Nowhere is there more promise along this line than in North Dakota. This state has not only the shortage of construction, and the assurance of prices for another year, which it shares with all the rest of the country, but it has in its home building bill the most effective instruments ever devised in the United States for assisting wage workers to build their homes.

Fargo promises to be first in the field under the new law—as it certainly is first in need and the first home builders' association in North Dakota has been instituted there. In the present state of congestion, the opportunity to secure homes, both lots and building material supplied at wholesale cost, and deferred payments on easy terms and low interest rates, is one which Fargo people do not propose to miss.

And the need for additional homes is so great here that no time must be lost in putting the new law into effect.

Electricity Lightens Women's Work

Solid comfort in the modern household depends to a great extent on the degree to which electricity is used to lighten the burden of the housewife. Baking, sweeping, laundry work, dish washing are all being done more easily and more satisfactorily through the scientific and practical application of electricity. The development of the electric washer and the competition among the various manufacturers to produce the perfect machine—perfection being measured by results—has been the means of inducing a scientific analysis of the operation of domestic washing.

The method of attacking the problem is interesting. It had first to be decided just what "dirty" is. In general it proved on analysis to be a combination of grease with dust. The simplified problem was the removal of the "dirty." The age old method of rubbing the clothes on a washboard was subjected to analysis. It has proven that the place occupied by the corrugated washboard in the combination of soiled cloth, soap, and water was due to the fact that the corrugations provided air pockets; that the process of rubbing resulted in the pocketed air forcing the solution of soap and water through the fabric to be cleaned; and hence the clean clothes.

The actual friction of surface against surface did no good, but only provided wear and tear on the garment.

The modern electric washer demonstrates the efficiency that results from the scientific application of the facts discovered through scientific analysis.

Paint Suggestion

Building File Editor: I would like to add a few words to "Well Wisher's" letter of last week with reference to the need for paint protection for the residential as well as the business section. If property owners could be brought to consider this matter for a few minutes I am sure there would be no lack of work for the many returned painters when spring opens up.

Paint is looked on generally as more or less of a luxury, whereas the main object in painting is preservation. A coat of good paint properly applied forms a thin elastic film which is both wind and waterproof. This waterproof film preserves the lumber against the combined attacks of sun and rain and prevents the damage by warping and cracking that is suffered by the building left unpainted from year to year.

"Well Wisher" is very near to facts when he mentions the almost criminal waste of building material that goes on. The cry has been "production of new homes" with no thought for the existing buildings and the need for their preservation.

The price of paint is a small item when compared with the damage done to a building left unpainted, and the longer the painting is neglected the greater the damage done with the consequent need for more paint to remedy the action of sun and rain.

I think there is room for an educative campaign in your columns to point out the evils resulting from the neglect of the most elementary care of buildings. By all means let us have new homes, but don't let us scrap every second house for lack of a coat of paint.

In the Springtime

It's just at this time of the year that we need something taken from Nature to restore the vital forces.

People get sick because they go away from Nature, and the only way to get well is to go back. Something grows out of the ground in the form of vegetation to cure almost every ill. Some of these vegetable growths are understood by man, and some are not. Animals, it would seem, know what to do when they are sick better than men and women. Observers have noted that a sick horse, dog or cat will soon eat food and seek out some vegetable growth in the field or yard, which, when found and eaten, often restores appetite and health. Haven't you seen these animals do this very thing yourself?
